

It is very important for fairness and representation to count incarcerated people as belonging to the communities they will return to after they are released. Giving towns that happen to have prisons outsized influence and representation is not right.

The Prison Policy Initiative (<https://www.prisonpolicy.org/>) is a great source of supporting information on this topic.

Thank you,

~Wendy Hardenberg
New Haven, CT